

Real Cost of Van Life: A Year in Numbers

Fuel, food, insurance, repairs – the full breakdown, no rounding up. Across twelve months and roughly 28,000km, fuel ran the single largest line item, followed by insurance and a mid-year alternator repair. Campsite and aire fees stayed modest by sticking to free overnight spots three nights out of five. The full monthly ledger, including the two unexpected repair bills that ate the emergency fund, is below.
